'ACCUSATIONS TARGETING AMERICA, ISRAEL'

Trump Sanctions ICC over Bibi's War Crime Charges

Washington: US President Donald Trump signed an executive order imposing sanctions on the International Criminal Court over investigations of Israel, accuse American ally.

Neither Washington nor Tel Aviv is a member of or recognizes the court, which has issued an arrest warrant for Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu for alleged war crimes over his military response in Gaza after the Hamas attack against Israel in October 2023. Tens of thousands of Palestinians, including children, have been killed during the Israeli military response. The order Trump signed Thursday accuses the ICC of engaging in "illegitimate and baseless actions targeting America and our close ally Israel" and of abusing its power by issuing "baseless arrest warrants" against Netanyahu and former Israeli defence minister Yoav Gallant. "The ICC has no jurisdiction over the United States or Israel," the order states, adding that the court had set a "dangerous precedent" with its actions. Trump's action came as Netanyahu was visiting Washington. He and Trump held talks Tuesday at the White House, and Netanyahu spent some of Thursday meeting with lawmakers on Capitol Hill. The order says the US will impose "tangible and significant consequences" on those responsible for the ICC's "transgressions." Actions may include blocking property and assets and not allowing ICC officials, employees and relatives to enter the United States.

'HARDER TO FIND JUSTICE' Human rights activists said sanctioning court officials would run counter to US interests in other conflict zones where the ICC is investigating. "Victims of human rights abuses around the world turn to the ICC when they have nowhere else to go, and President Trump's executive order will make it harder for them to find justice," said Charlie Hogle, staff attorney with American Civil Liberties Union's National Security Project. He said the order "is an attack on both accountability and free speech." "You can disagree with the court and the way it operates, but this is beyond the pale," Sarah Yager, Washington director of Human Rights Watch, said.

CRIPPLING EFFECT Any sanctions could cripple the court by making it harder for its investigators to travel and by compromising US developed technology to safeguard evidence. The court last year suffered a major cyberattack that left employees unable to access files for weeks. Some European countries are pushing back. The Netherlands last year called on ICC members "to cooperate to mitigate risks of these possible sanctions, so that the court can continue to carry out its work and fulfil its mandate."—AP

Tax, Spending Plan Unveiling This Weekend

Washington: Congressional Republicans' tax and spending package will be announced this weekend, United States House Speaker Mike Johnson said on Friday. "We got a few more things to work on today and tomorrow, but we're planning for a mark up on probably Tuesday," Reuters

As Panama Snubs Renewal of Infra Pact, Beijing Blames Washington

Beijing: China on Friday lashed out at what it called US "coercion" after Panama declined to renew a key infrastructure agreement with Beijing following Washington's threat to take back the Panama Canal.

Foreign ministry spokesperson Lin Jian said at a briefing that China "firmly opposes the US smearing and undermining the Belt and Road cooperation through means of pressure and coercion."

The Belt and Road Initiative is President Xi Jinping's signature foreign policy drive to bind China closer to countries in the region and beyond by building roads, railways, airports, power plants and other infrastructure. The program has completed some major projects but also raised concerns about debt and environmental impact.

Panama's decision to walk away from it was seen as a concession to the US over the canal after US Secretary of State Marco Rubio warned Panamanian leader José Raúl Mulino on Sunday that Panama must immediately reduce what President Donald Trump says is Chinese influence over the canal area or face potential retaliation from the United States.

Mulino has rejected pressure from the new US government to discuss ownership of a waterway that is vital to global trade.

Despite that, some believe Panama may be open to a compromise under which canal operations on both sides are taken away from the Hong Kong-based Hutchison Ports company, which was given a 25-year no-bid extension to run them. An audit into the suitability of that extension is already underway and could lead to a re-bidding process.

A drop in water levels in the canal due to drought has slowed transit through the canal, raising further complaints from Trump, although the delay appears to have nothing to do with China.

Lin said the Belt and Road Initiative has brought "active participation" from over 150 countries and that it has brought "fruitful results" to Panama and China, but gave no examples.

"We hope Panama will bear in mind the general picture of bilateral relationship and the long-term interests of both peoples, resist external interference, and make the right decision," Lin said.—AP

Engaging with US on N-talks 'Not Honourable': Khamenei

Dubai, UAE: Iran's supreme leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei said Friday that negotiations with America "are not intelligent, wise or honorable" after President Donald Trump floated nuclear talks with Tehran.

He also suggested that "there should be no negotiations with such a government," but stopped short of issuing a direct order not to engage with Washington.

The remarks upend months of signals from Tehran to the United States that it wanted to negotiate over its rapidly advancing nuclear program in exchange for the lifting of crushing economic sanctions worth billions of dollars. Following Khamenei's comments, the Iranian rial sunk to a record low of 872,000 rials to $1 in after market trading.

What happens next remains unclear, particularly as reformist President Masoud Pezeshkian promised as recently as Thursday to enter into a dialogue with the West.

Resilient Gazans Reject Trump's 'Rebuild' Plan

Relief supplies being distributed in northern Gaza, Friday, NYT

Gaza City, Gaza: Palestinians in Gaza say they are determined to rebuild their own seafront restaurants and hotels, dismissing US President Donald Trump's vision of creating a "Riviera of the Middle East" emptied of its population and under US control.

Before Israel's 15-month offensive left buildings across Gaza in ruins, the densely inhabited Palestinian territory had developed a local tourism scene on its Mediterranean shore despite a long blockade.

"There is nothing that cannot be repaired," said Gaza resident Assad Abu Haseira, pledging to start serving food from the restaurant he owns even before its rebuild.

"Trump says he wants to change the restaurants, and he wants to change Gaza and wants to create a new history for Gaza. We remain Arab and the history of Arabs will not be replaced with the history of foreigners." Other Palestinians share his defiance. Mohammed Abu Haseira, another restaurant owner, said his eatery would become operational again "and much better than before."

"Trump has come up with a decision that he wants to establish restaurants, but the restaurants are here and the hotels are here. Why did you destroy them to establish other ones?" he said.

Gaza was once a popular destination for Israeli tourists and even after the takeover of the territory by the Islamist movement Hamas in 2007, beachside restaurants and cafes lined its seafront.

Trump's vision of a Gaza Strip cleared of its Palestinian inhabitants and redeveloped into an international resort revived an idea previously floated by his son-in-law Jared Kushner.

It triggered condemnation from around the world, with critics saying it would be tantamount to ethnic cleansing and illegal under international law. Gazans were also quick to denounce the scheme, vowing never to leave the ruins of their homes.

For Palestinians, such talk recalls the 'Nakba' or catastrophe after the 1948 war around the creation of the state of Israel, when 700,000 fled or were forced from their homes.—Reuters
